

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION MASTER GARDENER VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

MISSION:

The Ohio State University Extension Master Gardener Program is a volunteer educational program designed to meet the horticultural needs of citizens of Ohio. Its purpose is to train volunteers and use their expertise to teach people more about plants, their culture, and their importance to the environment and to our quality of life.

HISTORY:

The Master Gardener Program began in the state of Washington and is now conducted at land-grant university Extension programs in nearly every state, as well as Canada. The program began in Ohio in 1986 and is now active in more than 50 counties within the state. Cuyahoga County currently has about 200 active Master Gardener Volunteers.

WHAT ARE COMMON MGV ACTIVITIES?

- Researching then answering resident inquiries on horticulture topics (via telephone, email or in person at a farmers market).
- Supporting instruction in fourth grade plant science with garden curriculum.
- Giving talks to garden clubs and other organizations.
- Planting, maintaining, and teaching in Extension's Demonstration Gardens (Ben Franklin School Garden and Share the Health Garden).
- Assisting with therapeutic horticulture projects with patients in nursing homes and skilled nursing facilities.

SUPPORT PROVIDED:

In addition to the Ohio Master Gardener Manual, Master Gardener Volunteers have at their disposal office reference materials and Internet resources to assist in answering questions and requests for information. If the Master Gardener Volunteer is unable to assist a consumer, questions are referred to the appropriate staff or the Extension Educator. For additional support within the first years, a new Master Gardener Volunteer will have the opportunity to be assigned an experienced Master Gardener Volunteer as a mentor.

THE BASIC TRAINING PROGRAM:

Each year a new class of Master Gardener Trainees is selected. The class size is limited to ensure the best possible training for the trainees and reasonable volunteer opportunities. Classes will be held at the Cuyahoga County Extension office in Cleveland. The classes will begin at the end of August, and will be held each Thursday from 11AM to 3PM, August 22 to October 25. There will also be one or two Saturday classes, dates TBA.

The class duration is from 11:00 AM to 3:00 PM.

Classroom lectures and learning activities are provided by Ohio State University Faculty, District Specialists and State Specialists, as well as a few local experts. Trainees must successfully complete weekly quizzes and a take-home, open-book final examination.

When the trainee has successfully completed the course and the final examination, he/she is now an Intern in the Master Gardener Program. Volunteering becomes a critical part of the learning process and Interns must complete a minimum of 50 hours of volunteer work by September 30, 2019, to become certified as an Ohio State University Extension Master Gardener Volunteer. There are continuing requirements to maintain this certification (currently 20 hours volunteer work and 10 hours of Continuing Education each year.)
