Breakfast Gardening Series
Presented by
Master Gardeners of Cuyahoga County

Home grown is always better. This series of three sessions is designed for anyone interested in home gardening and enjoying the bounty it brings. Whether yours is a traditional backyard garden or employs raised beds or containers, OSU Educators and Master Gardener Volunteers will provide information on how to plan and grow your summer garden.

The cost includes a delicious breakfast prepared by Master Gardener Volunteers featuring scones, savory and sweet muffins and sausage rolls, fresh fruit, and deviled eggs. There will be a take-home gift at each session. Attend one session or the entire series (at reduced cost).

April 4, 2017 Blueberries / Herbs
Tim Malinich, Agriculture and Natural Resources Extension Educator, Erie County

An expert in small fruit production, Tim will discuss the varieties of health-promoting and delicious blueberries and other small fruit that do well in our area, and the basics of growing them in your home garden.

Jo Ann Bartsch, Cuyahoga County Master Gardener Volunteer
This presentation is aimed for gardeners who want to try growing herbs – primarily for use in cooking. You’ll find out what you need to know to grow them, how easy it is, and which are the best ones to get you started.

May 9, 2017 Microgreens / Container Vegetable Gardening
Jacqueline Kowalski, Agriculture and Natural Resources Extension Educator, Summit County

Growing microgreens can be a fun way to incorporate these nutritional powerhouses into your diet year round. Jacqueline will discuss equipment, variety selection, and production practices. Good agricultural practices and post-harvest concerns will also be reviewed. Each participant will receive microgreen seeds to try at home.

Christine Harris, Cuyahoga County Master Gardener Volunteer
Topics include the basic requirements, types and sizes of containers, cultural practices and tips for growing popular vegetables.

June 13, 2017 Tomatoes / When and How Do I Harvest Vegetables?
Eric Barrett, Assistant Professor and OSU Extension Educator, Mahoning County

Everyone’s favorite garden plant – the tomato! Learn the best varieties, best growing methods and how to keep disease away to help you be a successful tomato grower.

Christine Harris, Cuyahoga County Master Gardener Volunteer
How to tell if a vegetable is at its peak for harvesting and whether continued harvesting will result in more production.
