

Saturday Gatherings in the Garden Native Perennials

When

Saturday, July 11, 2020
10:00 am - 11:00 am EDT

Where

This workshop will be held online
using Zoom

Join us for the newest online programming presented by Master Gardeners of Cuyahoga County.

We are offering six one-hour, informative sessions on Saturday mornings. We will cover different aspects of gardening beginning in June and continuing through August 2020.

Our next gathering will be held on Saturday, July 11, 2020 from 10:00 am - 11:00 am EDT.

Native Perennials

Presented by Cuyahoga County Master Gardener Jo Ann Bartsch

Master Gardener volunteer, Jo Ann Bartsch, will be our presenter as she gives you permission to go WILD!
in your Northeast Ohio Garden by planting native perennials.

We'll begin by defining what natives are and why they are so important. We'll talk about where to grow them, how to grow them, and which ones might be best for your garden. There are over 1800 plants native to Ohio. We can't showcase all of them in one hour, but we'll look at least several dozen suitable for beginning a native garden.

Jo Ann Bartsch has been an OSU Cuyahoga County Master Gardener volunteer since 2007. She is a retired environmental scientist and finds retirement the perfect setting for exploring new gardening techniques and, of course, discovering plants she's never grown before. Within the Master Gardener Community she focuses on creating and giving presentations like the one you'll see on July 11th, on a variety of horticultural topics. She also mentors vegetable gardeners at two community gardens in her neighborhood.
