Going Underground with Bulbs, Rhizomes, Corms and Tubers

Presented by Cuyahoga County

Master Gardener Volunteer Sandy Welches

Bulbs and their relatives - rhizomes, corms and tubers - can give us three-season color in our gardens. This presentation describes a few familiar favorites, but mostly some of the more unusual bulbs available. It also addresses their growing requirements and care, and pests and diseases. Finally, it suggests some tender bulbs for you to try to expand the bulb interest in your garden.

Sandy Welches has been a Master Gardener Volunteer since 2005 and a home gardener since she bought her first home in 1983. She has had many favorite plants over the years, but these days, she's interested in all things conifer and evergreen, weepy and weird and even dwarf. Sandy loves planting ornamental trees and hopes that her garden looks more like a forest in the years to come.

Registration deadline: Friday, September 25 at 12:00 Noon

There is a $5.00 fee for this event.

Information on how to connect to the online webinar will be sent to all registrants on September 25.
