

Subject: Update News! 2019 International Master Gardener Conference

Dear Master Gardener,

Welcome to the 2019 International Master Gardener Conference (IMGC) update news!

As we count down the months until June, we'll share the latest additions to our website and provide helpful conference planning information for you.

Our IMGC website (<http://www.internationalmastergardener.com/>) is packed with details to prepare you for an easy registration process.

Take time now to review the lodging options, tours, Field Study Days, speakers, and more.

Early registration is expected to open in late-November. That gives us time to set pricing for registration and the optional activities; tour pricing is already on the site in the individual tour descriptions. Our thanks to the many sponsors helping us keep fees reasonable through their generosity. Check them out on the website!

Send questions and suggestions for future update topics to deb@internationalmastergardener.com.

We are continually adding information to the website as it becomes available, so keep checking frequently!

We will not share your email address. If you no longer wish to receive conference updates, simply follow the directions in the footer of this email.

Sincerely,

Your IMGC Planning Committee
